Restwel Mattress

Silk floss is the product of the Kapok tree.

It is the finest mattress filling known to science. Being a vegetable product, it is free from all animal matter—which often breeds germs.

Silk floss is a solid fibre—not hollow like most fillings. Silk floss is water proof—and as light as the finest down.

A Restwel Mattress

only weighs 30 lbs.

The makers of Restwel Mattresses have their own plants on the island of Java—there the silk floss is gathered, sorted and shipped to America. Then it undergoes a wonderful patented process of sterilization before it is used in the scientifically constructed Restwel Mattress.

We sell RESTWEL MATTRESSES—first, because they are absolutely guaranteed; and, secondly, because they give the best satisfaction of any mattress we know of.

While with all these virtues, THEY COST NO MORE than the UNSATISFACTORY mattress—whose filling is of uncertain origin.

Confidence, the Foundation of Our Business

It is absolutely necessary for any business to enjoy the confidence of its patrons.

We realize and know this and are doing everything possible to gain and keep your confidence. We sell no goods that are not strictly dependable. We are constantly studying the market to get the new things as soon as they are approved by society.

We stand back of everything that we sell. Our interest in the matter does not end until the sale is perfectly satisfactory to you. We buy from people who guarantee their garments for two years' wear, and we back up their guarantee of service and satisfaction.

This is a fixed policy of our business: First, because it is right; and, secondly, because it pays. See our new fall goods. Every department now ready for fall business.

Our milliner has already returned from her second trip to market with the latest Hat designs.

Largest assortment of Dry Goods in Washington county. Bought right. Priced so that no one can come back and report a better price. We send samples, and parcel post free. We want your trade and can help you to lots of new ideas. We have a New York resident buyer that helps us to find the good things—the ones that you want.

Autoists who chose one of the finest stretches of road in Vermont—the distance between Barre and White River Junction—to reach the state fair to-day, traveled at the beginning over 1,500 feet of roadway completed only last night, the 1914 piece of permanent highway constructed by the city at the South Main street extremity. Road workers have been employed busily for a month now and toward the end it was a nip-and-tuck race to see if the highway between the Quarry street intersection and the city line would be ready for traffic in time for the state fair. How well the highway workers have succeeded, motorists who traversed the stretch for the first time this morning can best testify.

Tonight's band concert in the music stand on city park may be the last open-air performance of the Barre Citizens' band this season, although the band manager has in mind a proposal to hold the two remaining concerts on consecutive Sunday afternoons, Sept. 20 and 27. Not in a number of years have lovers of band music been privileged to hear a Sunday afternoon concert here in the city and people who follow the fortunes of the band and have interested themselves in its welfare are manifesting a lively interest over the plan suggested. Owing to the lateness of the season, band concerts at night are not as popular as in midsummer and of late the attendance has been noticeably slim. By reason of its contract with the city, the band is still under an obligation to play two more concerts before the requirements are fulfilled.

The subject of winter sports is a far cry from the mellow days of Indian summer and yet the very persons who enthusiastically over last season's efforts to maintain public skating rinks in different parts of the city are contemplating at the present moment plans for free skating grounds on a scale larger than ever before. In the past considerable difficulty has been experienced in properly flooding the rinks made possible only by the haws of willing youngsters who worked early and late to provide suitable skating places. Last winter there were a number of excellent rinks in operation but for one reason and another the lack of facilities for flooding the basins constructed by the young people often spoiled the opportunities for free skating. Interested persons have taken upon themselves the responsibility of interviewing the city fathers, with the result that the aldermanic water committee is already working on a scheme to provide standpipes to be used when the rinks shall be ready for flooding.
